When selecting a vendor to integrate with Property24, the following needs to be considered:

- Integration from your existing system may incur costs from your technology partner (TP).
- It is understood that the chosen TP is familiar with API integration.
- The feed is updated from time to time and as a result, clients should select a TP that will be able to provide ongoing maintenance and support.
- All system related issues need to be escalated to the selected TP first. The TP will escalate to Property24, if they cannot resolve the problem.
- Technical Support is based on business day operating hours, 8:00 – 17:00, GMT +2.

- We recommend that clients, host their system data locally, as cloud based solutions hosted internationally may encounter problems preventing communication between their system and our Portal.
- For first time integration, TP's will be required to integrate on our test environment first and only after successfully completing a vetting test, will they be granted access to our live environment
